Georgia Framework for Teaching

The Georgia Framework for Teaching was adopted in 2005 by the Georgia Department of Education (DOE), the Georgia Professional Standards Commission (PSC), and the University System of Georgia Board of Regents (BOR) as the state definition of quality teaching. Developed by partners of the Georgia Systemic Teacher Education Program (GSTEP) through extensive focus groups across the state, the Framework identifies knowledge, skills, dispositions, understandings, and other attributes of accomplished teaching. The six domains and associated indicators provide common language and definitions for all stakeholders who are interested in quality teaching.

Guiding Principles of the Georgia Framework for Teaching

The following principles guided the development of the Framework:

- The Process Principle: Learning to teach is a career-long process.
- The Support Principle: Successful engagement in the process of learning to teach requires support from multiple partners.
- The Ownership Principle: Professional teachers have ownership of their careers, which they create and design.
- The Impact Principle: Effective teaching yields evidence of student learning.
- The Equity Principle: All teachers deserve high expectations and support.
- The Dispositions Principle: Productive dispositions affect student learning, teacher growth, and school climate positively.
- The Technology Principle: Technology facilitates teaching, learning, community building, and resource acquisition.

■ Domain 1: Content & Curriculum

Teachers demonstrate strong knowledge of content area(s) appropriate for their certification levels. Accomplished teachers:

1. demonstrate knowledge of content, major concepts, assumptions, debates, processes of inquiry, and ways of knowing that are central to the subject(s) they teach.
2. understand and use subject-specific content and pedagogical content knowledge (how to teach their subjects) that is appropriate for diverse learners they teach.
3. stay current in their subject areas as engaged learners and/or performers in their fields.
4. relate content area(s) to other subject areas and see connections to everyday life.
5. carefully select and use a wide variety of resources, including available technology, to deepen their own knowledge in the content area(s).
6. interpret and construct school curriculum that reflects state and national content area standards.

■ Domain 2: Knowledge of Students & Their Learning

Teachers support the intellectual, social, physical, and personal development of all students. Accomplished teachers:

1. believe that all children can learn at high levels and hold high expectations for all.
2. understand how learning occurs in general and in the content areas (e.g., how diverse learners construct knowledge, acquire skills, and develop habits of mind).
3. are sensitive, alert, and responsive to all aspects of a child’s well-being.
4. understand how factors in environments inside and outside of school may influence students’ lives and learning.
